Your Rights of Access, Correction, Erasure and Restriction

Under certain circumstances, by law you have the right to:

- Access your personal information (commonly known as a “subject access request”). This allows you to receive a copy of the personal information we hold about you and to check we are lawfully processing it. You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal information. Right to Withdraw Consent

In the limited circumstances where you may have provided your consent to the collection, processing and transfer of your personal information for a specific purpose, you have the right to withdraw your consent for that specific processing at any time. To withdraw your consent, please contact Meic Griffiths. Once we have received notification that you have withdrawn your consent, we will no longer process your information for the purpose or purposes you originally agreed to, unless we have another legitimate basis for doing so in law.

Staff and governors are confident that they know: · What a data breach is and how to report one · How to recognise a subject access request (SAR) and what to do if they receive one · What to do if they want to share a piece of personal data externally, including if it's shared internationally · How they should access and use personal data if they want to look at it away from the school site	Staff would seek advice … as would the governing board in relation to specific issues

Privacy Notice - Pupils

1. Introduction
Under UK data protection law, individuals have a right to be informed about how our school uses any personal data that we hold about them. We comply with this right by providing 'privacy notices' (sometimes called 'fair processing notices') to individuals where we are processing their personal data.

This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal data about pupils at our school.

This privacy notice applies while we believe your child is not capable of understanding and exercising their own data protection rights.

Once your child is able to understand their rights over their own personal data (generally considered to be age 12, but this has to be considered on a case-by-case basis), you should instead refer to our privacy notice for pupils to see what rights they have over their own personal data. Include a link to this privacy notice or explain where it can be found.
We,the Imperium Federation, are the 'data controller' for the purposes of UK data protection law.

2. The personal data we hold
Adapt the list below to reflect the types of personal data about pupils that you collect or use. If you can be specific, particularly when talking about special category data, do so.
We hold personal data about pupils at our school to support teaching and learning, to provide pastoral care and to assess how the school is performing.

Personal data that we may collect, use, store and share (when appropriate) about your child includes, but is not restricted to:

- Information about any medical conditions we need to be aware of, including physical and mental health

We will only use your child's personal information for the purposes for which we have collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for any other reason and that reason is incompatible with the original purpose. If we need to use your child's personal information for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and explain the legal basis that allows us to do so.

Please note that we may process your child's personal information without your knowledge or consent in compliance with the above rules where this is required or permitted by law.

3.1 Use of your child's personal data for marketing purposes
Where you have given us consent to do so, we may send your child marketing information by email or text promoting school events, campaigns, charitable causes or services that may be of interest to them.
You can withdraw consent or 'opt out' of receiving these emails and/or texts at any time by selecting the 'Unsubscribe' link at the bottom of any such communication, or by contacting us (see 'Contact us' below).

3.2 We do not currently process any pupils' personal data through automated decision-making or profiling. If this changes in the future, we will amend any relevant privacy notices to explain the processing to you, including your right to object to it.

3.3 Use of your child's personal data for filtering and monitoring purposes

While your child is in our school, we may monitor their use of our information and communication systems, equipment and facilities (e.g. school computers). We do this so we can:

- Comply with health and safety, and other legal obligations
- Comply with our policies (e.g. child protection policy, IT acceptable use policy) and our legal obligations
- Keep our network(s) and devices safe from unauthorised access, and prevent malicious software from harming our network(s)
- Protect your child's welfare

4. Our lawful basis for using this data

Where you have provided us with consent to use your child's data, you may withdraw this consent at any time. We will make this clear when requesting your consent, and explain how you would go about withdrawing consent if you wish to do so.

We will only collect and use your child's information when the law allows us to as detailed above in section 4 of this notice. While the majority of information we collect about your child is mandatory, there is some information that can be provided voluntarily.

Please note: this list is not exhaustive.

Once your child reaches the age of 13, we are legally required to pass on certain information to the local authority or youth services provider, which has responsibilities regarding the education or training of 13 to 19 year olds under section 507B of the Education Act 1996. Parents/carers, or pupils if aged 16 or over, can request that only their name, address and date of birth be passed to these agencies by informing the data protection officer (DPO).

National Pupil Database (NPD)

We are required to provide information about pupils to the DfE as part of statutory data collections such as the school census [if applicable, add: and early years census].
Some of this information is then stored in the National Pupil Database (NPD), which is owned and managed by the DfE and provides evidence on school performance to inform research.

The database is held electronically so it can easily be turned into statistics. The information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and exam boards.

The DfE may share information from the NPD with third parties, such as other organisations that promote children's education or wellbeing in England. These third parties must agree to strict terms and conditions about how they will use the data.

For more information, see the DfE's webpage on how it collects and shares personal data.

You can also contact the Department for Education with any further questions about the NPD.

7.2 Transferring data internationally

We may share personal information about your child with the following international third parties, where different data protection legislation applies.
Where we transfer your child's personal data to a third-party country or territory, we will do so in accordance with UK data protection law.
In cases where we have to set up safeguarding arrangements to complete this transfer, you can get a copy of these arrangements by contacting us.

8. Your rights

8.1 How to access personal information that we hold about your child

You have a right to make a 'subject access request' to gain access to personal information that we hold about your child.

If you make a subject access request, and if we do hold information about your child, we will (subject to any exemptions that apply):

- Give you a description of it
- Tell you why we are holding it, how we are processing it, and how long we will keep it for
- Explain where we got it from, if not from you
- Tell you who it has been, or will be, shared with
- Let you know whether any automated decision-making is being applied to the data, and any consequences of this
- Give you a copy of the information in an intelligible form

You may also have the right for your child's personal information to be transmitted electronically to another organisation in certain circumstances.

If you would like to make a request, please contact us (see 'Contact us' below).

If relevant to your school, add: Once your child is able to understand their rights over their own data (generally considered to be age 12, but this has to be considered on a case-by-case basis), we will need to obtain consent from your child for you to make a subject access request on their behalf.

8.2 Your right to access your child's educational record

Parents, or those with parental responsibility, also have the right to access their child's educational record (which includes most information about a pupil). This right applies as long as the pupil is aged under 18.

There are certain circumstances in which this right can be denied, such as if releasing the information might cause serious harm to the physical or mental health of the pupil or another individual, or if it would mean releasing exam marks before they are officially announced.
To make a request, please contact Mr Meic Griffiths

8.3 Your other rights regarding your child's data

Under UK data protection law, you have certain rights regarding how your child's personal data is used and kept safe. For example, you have the right to:

- Object to our use of your child's personal data
- Object to the processing of your child's personal data that is likely to cause, or is causing, damage or distress
- Prevent your child's data being used to send direct marketing
- Object to and challenge the use of your child's personal data for decisions being taken by automated means (by a computer or machine, rather than by a person)
- In certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data corrected or blocked
- In certain circumstances, have the personal data we hold about your child deleted or destroyed, or restrict its processing
- Withdraw your consent, where you previously provided it for the collection, processing and transfer of your child's personal data for a specific purpose
- In certain circumstances, be notified of a data breach
- Make a complaint to the Information Commissioner's Office
- Claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of the data protection regulations

We may refuse your information rights request for legitimate reasons, which depend on why we're processing it. Some rights may not apply in these circumstances:

- Your right to have all personal data deleted or destroyed doesn't apply when the lawful basis for processing is legal obligation or public task

- Your right to receive a copy of your personal data, or have your personal data transmitted to another controller, does not apply when the lawful basis for processing is legal obligation, vital interests, public task or legitimate interests

- Right to object to use of your private data doesn't apply when the lawful basis for processing is contract, legal obligation or vital interests. And if the lawful basis is consent, you don't haven't the right to object, but you have the right to withdraw consent
- See information on types of lawful basis in section 4 of this privacy notice.

To exercise any of these rights, please contact us (see 'Contact us' below).
If relevant to your school, add: Once your child is able to understand their rights over their own data (generally considered to be age 12, but this has to be considered on a case-by-case basis), we will need to obtain consent from your child for you to make these requests on their behalf.
